About the Event

Nazareth is commemorating America's 250th birthday with a "Nazareth Celebrates America 250" festival. The event will take place following the town's annual Kazoo Parade on July 4th. This free community celebration will honor town heroes and will feature live music, family-friendly activities, and food at the historic site where Nazareth started—the Whitefield House. The festival will take place from 9:00 am to 3:00 p.m. A patriotic program will begin at 10:00 a.m. with remarks by elected officials and veterans followed by the recognition of town heroes. Parking will be available at the nearby Nazareth Area School District parking lots. Shuttles will bring visitors to the site. We hope you can join us as a sponsor to make this celebration extra special!

About the Organizers

The “Nazareth Celebrates America 250” festival is being planned by Tina Smith, Director of Community and Economic Development for the County of Northampton; Lisa Borick Director of the Nazareth Economic Development Commission; and Susan Ellis, Executive Director of the Moravian Historical Society. The festival will take place at the Moravian Historical Society, a three-acre historic site begun in 1740 by Moravian settlers. The venue has hosted numerous community events, including the popular Arts & Crafts Festival.

All proceeds benefit two Nazareth non-profit organizations: The Moravian Historical Society and the Nazareth Economic Development Corporation.
